called, drew all his books, franked and di rected them to a friend's house, and saw them safely off before the vote was announced. A member's share of public documents is T. J. Erady in connection with a prominent United States senator for conspiracy to defraud the government. Ker was present in the grand jury-room during nearly the whole session tw-day. Walsh was examined at length, and it is believed that his testimony was substantially a repetition of that given before the grand jury in July last. Contractor J. B. Price and others have also been called upon to testify, and it is expected that their combined evidence will make the case much stronger than it was in the first instance. At the end of to-day's session the grand jury was excused until Mondty next.

A member's share of public documents is by no means an insignificant perquisite. He geis, roughly speaking, one four-hundredths part of the publications, the cost of which is $2,000,000, or $5000 worth, an amount equal not sell for that sum, of course, and yet the cash value of a complete set of public documents is by no means an insignificant perquisite. So large and steady is the sale been prepared by the commissioner of inter-nal revenue which shows the receipts of that price. They are rated at ten cents apiece. and at this price some country members bu office for the last fiscal year to be $146,400.

One of the receipts from July 1, 1882, to March 21, 1883, exceed the receipts for the corresponding period last year by $2,200,000.

It is estimated that the receipts for the current fiscal year, if there had been no reduction of the country of the country of the country of the same of the country of the same of the could get from fellow members.

> The question arises whether this act of itself, or in connection with existing laws, operates as an appropriation of money necessary to pay the claims which may be presented. It will be observed that the law provides that such rebate to the manufacturers may be made in stamps at the reduced rate, and this part of the law I would regard as sufficient authority for me to settle such claims with manufacturers. It would seem that it was not the intention of Congress to treat deal ers in manufacturers. As the claims will necessarily pass through your office, it is your province, under the law, to decide whether or not there be an appropriation to pay them.

money shall be drawn from the creasury but it consequence of appropriations made by law. The purpose of this was to reserve to Congress the control of public money. The statute should not be construed as making appropriation unless its language is sufficiently explicit to clearly justify it. An appropriation cannot arise by inference without very clear and explicit terms requiring it. It cannot be presumed that Congress has devoted any portion of the money in the treasury to a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said so in a specific purpose unless a statute has said as a specific purpose unless a statute has said as a specific purpose unless a statute has said as a specific purpose a specific purpose unless a statute has said as a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific purpose and a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific purpose and a specific purpose and a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific purpose a specific purpose and a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific purpose a specific purpose and a specific purpose a specific pur
